

Tim Marriott, Eastbourne College's Director of Drama, will compère the ESO's tenth music-from-the-movies concert on Sunday 5 October. The Eastbourne Symphony Orchestra, now in its twenty-eighth season, will show film clips on full-sized cinema screen and then play music from these movies. The programme will include film and music from Schindler's List, Indiana Jones, The Magnificent Seven, Babe, South Pacific, and The Music Lovers. The second half features the well-known Tchaikowsky Piano Concerto No 1 and the soloist is international pianist John York.

The conductor will be ESO's musical director Graham Jones and the leader will be Lisa Wigmore. Supported by BPE Net Limited, Eastbourne Borough Council, Eastbourne College, Eastbourne's Curzon Cinema, and local printers and stationers Sumfield and Day, this concert is a popular event in the orchestra's programme. The ESO are delighted to be part of the Victorian Festival programme.

Sunday 5 October, 7.30pm, Congress Theatre. Tickets are £10, £12 and half price for children and students. Eastbourne Theatres Box Office 01323 412000. For further information 07780 993801 or concertmanager@eso.org.uk or visit www.eso.org.uk
